TORONTO — The nominees for the 2011 Phase 1 All Canada Classic were named Tuesday, with the list of 100 Canadian high school basketball players displaying the high level of player development and growth of the game throughout Canada.

The impressive list is highlighted by 19 players from Canada's 2010 Cadet and Junior National teams including Myck Kabongo (Toronto), Khem Birch (Montreal), Kyle Wiltjer (West Linn, Ore.), and Kevin Pangos (Holland Landing, Ont.).

Last year's event was highlighted by an MVP performance by Kabongo, who led Team White to a narrow 103-101 victory. Team Red was led by Daniel Mullings (Toronto) whose electrifying dunks got the attention of current Raptors DeMar DeRozan and Sonny Weems, who were front and centre for the action.

This year's all Canadians will be selected by an appointed committee and the event promises to have the same amount of excitement as last year's game. It is set to take place on June 20 and will again be hosted by the Air Canada Centre in Toronto.
