11th Annual All Canada Classic

Phase 1's Annual All Canada Classic brings the best high school male and female basketball talent from across the nation. Now in its eleventh year, the landmark event is presented and hosted by former Toronto Raptor Jerome "JYD" Williams and supported by his JYD Project youth-focused organization. High school students from across the country will get the chance to play the Air Canada Centre – the same court the Toronto Raptors play.

With the best young players Canada has under one roof, the All Canada Classic is the ideal event to witness future professional players for scouts and fans alike.
